

Response to Request for Information

Reference FOI 001610
Date 24 October 2017

Letting Agents

Request:

How many fines has your local authority levied on letting agents for breaches of the Consumer Rights Act 2015 since it came into force?

The answer is “none” but we have carried out visits and disseminated guidance material to letting agents as part of our work under this act. We have carried out this work together with our colleagues in Private Sector Housing. So whilst we haven't levied any penalties it does not mean that we have been inactive.